VOL. XVII. NO. 46

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1918

PRICE TEN CENTS

TO-DAY'S NEWS

LONDON—German armistice delegation reached the Allied lines last night.

WASHINGTON—It is reported both here and in New York that the Germans have signed armistice, and that the Liberty Bell is ringing in Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON—American casualties 1276; dead 670; severely wounded 118.

SEDAN FRONT—American troops today entered that part of Sedan that lies on the west bank of the Meuse. The bridge over the Meuse at Sedan over which the retreating enemy fled has been destroyed and the river valley flooded.

BATTLE FRONT IN BELGIUM—Germans have decided to abandon Ghent and are asking the Belgians not to fire on the suburbs of the town.

COPENHAGEN—Revolution has broken out in Hamburg. Artillery firing is in progress in the streets.

AMSTERDAM—Berlin newspapers report preparations in progress for withdrawal of German armies from Rumania.

WASHINGTON—Pershing reported today that his armies are making good progress on both sides of the Meuse.

LONDON—The entire German navy and a great part of Schleswig-Holstein is in the hands of revolutionists according to reports received in Copenhagen from Kiel. The battleship with the Kaiser's crew at Kiel have mutinied and hoisted a red flag. Officers attempting to defend the German flag were overpowered, and two of them, including a commander, were killed. Three companies of infantry sent from Kiel to restore order joined the revolutionists. A fourth company acted as though they were half way in earnest. They were disarmed and sent trotting back to Kiel empty handed.

LONDON—British occupied Autroyo an important railway junction in Belgium.

LONDON—Americans are within six miles of Sedan. Their guns set fire to the town. Americans have captured 23 heavy guns.

PARIS—In many places the Germans have been driven from the Meuse line by Americans.

AMSTERDAM—The American consul and seven British prisoners killed by bombardment of Chalerol, Belgium, according to Berlin dispatches.

Following cables received last night:

WITH AMERICAN ARMY, SEDAN FRONT—Wednesday. German resistance against the American pressure west of the Meuse stiffened considerably today. The Germans are using all gas machine guns.

WASHINGTON—Yesterday's casualties, 1076; 258 dead, and 80 wounded severely.

PARIS—Foch is authorized by the Allies to receive German representatives and communicate the terms of armistice.

BERLIN—Wednesday. An official statement issued here today says, "A German delegation, to conclude an armistice and take up peace negotiations, has left for the western front."

AMSTERDAM—Severe rioting occurred at Kiel after a meeting of sailors and laborers. Mutinous sailors made their way to the military prison with the intention of liberating the men confined for insubordination. The guards fired upon the mutineers, killing 92. The military commander was shot dead.

The Sentinel greatly regrets that the annual message of the War Council to the chapters of the American Red Cross was received too late for publication in this issue.

Makes the Supreme Sacrifice

At a social given by the Wrangell Redmen's lodge about a year ago there were among the guests several passengers from the steamship Mariposa which had been wrecked near here on November 18. One of these was a fine looking young man named Max Poehlmann. Mr. Poehlmann was on his way from Seward to the States to enlist. He was soon in the service of Uncle Sam, and a few months later he was sent overseas. This week the publisher of the Sentinel received word that Mr. Poehlmann had made the supreme sacrifice. He was severely wounded while in action in France. He was taken to a hospital where he died the next day. Mr. Poehlmann came north from Petaluma, California and was for some time in the employ of the Alaska Engineering commission.

DOUGLAS, Nov. 1.—Adolph Engstrom, formerly employed at the J. W. Martin store, returned on the Jefferson yesterday after having finished his examinations at a training school for small fire arms in Ohio. Adolph states that he passed the physical tests and the examinations for official work, but is too young to be given a commission. He still expects to enlist or be called into some branch of the service.—Empire.

Moose Social

The committee in charge of the benefit dance given by local Moose last Thursday evening spared no pains in their endeavor to make the affair successful.

Redmen hall was beautifully decorated in bunting and flags. Red, white and blue streamers festooned the ceilings, and beneath the stars and stripes, on the wall opposite the entrance, hung the honor roll of the Wrangell Moose organization with its nineteen names. A tastefully arranged punch booth occupied one corner and was a favorite retreat between dances. The beverage was dispensed at the pre-war rate of five cents a glass and deserved the liberal patronage it received.

The committee had secured good music and floor manager Ned Lemieux arranged the dances so that everyone had an enjoyable evening.

The dance netted the sum of $138.90 which will be put into the Moose War Chest, a fund which is used for the benefit of members of the order who are in the service. Credit for the successful outcome of the benefit is due Ned Lemieux, chairman, C. C. Munday, A. Jacobitz and Ed La Bounty who constituted the committee on arrangements.

As Others See Us.

(Douglas Island News.)

The small boys at Wrangell are very warlike. Recently the town marshal there was ordered to disarm all the children and confiscate all sling-shots, air-guns and fire arms found on their persons. If this did not curb their war-like ardor it was ordered that the boys be arrested and fined if they did not quit shooting within the city limits.

When one enters the Wrangell town hall these days he feels himself in a patriotic atmosphere. On the walls are five large framed pictures of the following patriots: George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson, John J. Pershing, General Foch.

A dispatch from Seattle dated October 19th states according to a dispatch from Lee Bernard that the steamer Spokane will be withdrawn from the Alaska run December 4th and placed on the San Francisco and Los Angeles run.

Is Your Subscription Paid Up to Date ?

DELINQUENTS MUST BE DROPPED

The Order of War Industries Board Must Be Carried Out

Or Our Supply of Paper Will Be Cut Off By The Government

Therefore We Are Compelled to Cut Off, After This Issue, All Subscribers More Than Three Months in Arrears.

WAR BOARD RULES GOVERNING NEWSPAPERS STRICTLY CASH IN ADVANCE

No publisher may continue subscriptions after three months after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for.

FREE COPIES ELIMINATED

No publisher may give free copies of his paper, except for actual service rendered; except to camp libraries and huts or canteens of organizations; except to the library of congress, and other libraries which will agree to bind for permanent keeping.

The orders of the War Board concerning paper can no more be ignored than those of the Food Administration. The Government has found it necessary to make a reduction in the paper consumption. Large papers have been reduced in size by Government order. And as a precaution against waste, the War Industries Board has ordered that no publisher shall send his paper to any person who has not paid his subscription in advance.

No paper house in the United States is permitted to sell paper to any publisher not pledging himself in writing to obey the above rules. The failure of any publisher to abide by these regulations will result in the Government cutting off his paper supply.

The War Board believes that a great saving in paper can be accomplished in eliminating wasteful practices in newspaper offices, and putting them all on a strictly cash in advance basis.

While the war is in progress the Government does not want paper supplied to publishers who are mailing their publications to people who do not want them enough to pay for them promptly. The Government does not feel that it is fair to the industry for some publishers to be using white paper for the purpose of mailing to people who have not shown a sufficient desire for the paper to cause them to pay for it in advance, or within a period of three months from the time their subscription has expired.

The Government believes that if all publishers will put their publications on a cash in advance basis, and so weed out those who really do not want the paper, and who will not pay, the total reduction from this class will be sufficient for the present.

The Government states also that the enforcement of the cash in advance order, while relieving the paper situation, will at the same time relieve the mails of carrying needless pieces, and so make an additional saving in transportation.

The government's requirements for all kinds of paper are increasing rapidly and must be supplied.

Paper making requires a large amount of fuel which is essential for war purposes. A pound of paper wasted represents from one to three pounds of coal wasted.

Paper contains valuable chemicals necessary for war purposes. Economy in the use of paper will release a large quantity of these materials for making ammunition or poisonous gases.

The Sentinel has only a small number of subscribers who are not paid in advance, and they are all responsible people. We do not doubt their ability or willingness to pay. But we respectfully call their attention to the fact that to carry them any longer on our books would not only be a violation of the orders of the War Industries Board, but would place the publisher of the Sentinel in a position where he could not secure any more blank paper without perjuring himself. We don't want to lose any subscribers. We are proud of the fact that we have over three times as many subscribers now as when we bought the Sentinel two years ago. It would be with much reluctance that any name would be dropped from our list, but the war rules concerning paper must be obeyed the same as those referring to steel, sugar or wheat. We have no alternative in the matter.

Therefore all those who are more than three months in arrears will not receive the Sentinel after this issue unless their subscriptions are renewed.

THREE POUNDS OF SUGAR PER PERSON NOW

New Crop Allows Larger Measure of Sugar Per Month to Each Individual

Food Administrator Bradley Issues Instructions for a Larger Allowance

(From Juneau Empire)

Individual consumption of sugar, effective November 1st is three pounds per month. The allowance per person heretofore has been two pounds.

The regulations are also revised to the extent that any person may purchase his whole monthly allowance at one time, if he so desires, that is, any family may purchase a month's supply for the entire family in one purchase from the retail trades.

Paul Stanhope Dead

The people of Wrangell were shocked last Friday to learn that Paul F. Stanhope has succumbed to Spanish influenza.

Mr. Stanhope was a native of Arkansas. He came north in 1910, locating at Ketchikan. Later he came to Wrangell to work as a printer. In 1912 he bought the Sentinel. A short time after he assumed charge of the Sentinel he was married to Miss Doris Rudabaugh of Ketchikan. Mr. Stanhope continued to publish the Sentinel until September, 1916, when he sold it to the present owner.

Leaving Wrangell October 1, 1916, Mr. Stanhope went to Co-mopolis, Wash., where he became editor of the News. Later he filled a mechanical position on the Bremerton News. Last June he came north again and became associated with T. R. Needham in the publication of the Alaska Pioneer at Ketchikan.

Mr. Stanhope was 29 years of age. He is survived by a young wife and two small children.

The Sentinel mourns the loss of its former owner.

Search for Sophia Dead Continues

The search for the Princess Sophia's dead continues with Harry Morton, U. S. Deputy Marshal, in charge of the field and Charles D. Garfield looking after the Juneau headquarters.

Up to Saturday night 179 bodies had been recovered. The impression prevailed that Captain Locke and Pilot Shaw went down with the wreck and that their bodies would be found in the pilot house. Soundings taken by the Wrecker Tees show that the recent gale broke up the wreck and the stern is missing, and it is believed the pilot house has gone.

While there have been a number of reports about looting, officers say that not one single authentic case has come to light. The fact that it was necessary to cut life belts off some of the bodies and later the life belts were picked up, led to one report, and in another instance a bundle was found cut open, but it developed that searchers cut open the bundle to get some blankets to wrap about bodies from which the clothing had been torn by the action of the waves.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnt Sorset returned on the Spokane Friday morning from a trip to Chicago.

ENORMOUS HERDS OF CARIBOU

The marvelous spectacle of thousands of caribou or Arctic deer swimming across the Yukon river and moving over the hills along both sides of the river as far as the eye could reach was witnessed by the people who arrived here last night on the American government's dispatch steamer General Jeff. C. Davis. The caribou herds were encountered in the vicinity of the international boundary line, lying along the 141st meridian, between Eagle and Fortymile post. Captain Bergman, master of the Davis; Dr. H. C. Miller, of the U. S. army service, who is enroute south from St. Michael; Mrs. Miller and others had the pleasure of seeing the marvelous sight. Dr. Miller says:

"It is impossible for any person to say how many caribou were in that great herd. From familiarity in estimating bunches of cattle on the ranges, I should estimate that at one time we were able to see from the deck of the steamer fully 4,000 to 5,000 of the animals. How many had crossed and gone over the hills during the days previous to our arrival and how many were yet to come, no one could even approximate, I imagine.

"We had great difficulty in navigating among the swimming animals. For three hours at least we were steaming upstream among them. The barge in front of the steamer plowed down some of them, but they seemed to bob up from beneath afterward. The crew got ropes and lassoed a dozen, and dragged them aboard and slew them, and we have had the finest of fresh caribou cutlets and roasts.

The captain would not allow anyone to kill any more, as he deemed it would be wanton destruction to take more than could be used. "The animals were congregated on islands in the rivers, along the river bars and banks, and at every available point. The hills seemed alive with them, grazing and traveling slowly."

Others who were aboard report the animals were traveling southward, and no doubt they comprise the huge band which trekked northward across the Glacier trail forty miles west of Dawson during the summer. Wm. Berry, miner, who is here from Glacier creek, says the caribou passed there going north two months ago, following Walker's Fork toward the Dennison. One man walked twenty-one miles among the moving herds before he could get through them, and many others saw them. He says the whole mountains seemed to be alive and moving.

The well known halibut schooner Roald Amundson, of Seattle, is reported missing and is believed to have been lost at sea with all hands. The Roald Amundson cleared from this port for sea fishing about six weeks ago and has not been heard from since. She carried a crew of five men and is owned by a Seattle fish concern who are trying to locate the crew or wreck.

A cache of 746 bottles of bonded liquor was uncovered recently by the United States Marshal's office at Cordova and confiscated. Nels Smith was arrested and bound over to the grand jury, charged with the ownership of the goods, which he denies. He was released on giving bonds in the sum of $3000.

The Anchorage district is becoming so depopulated that it is hard to secure men to do work needed. Since early fall when the commission failed to raise the wages on the government railroad, men have been going out by the thousand, until it is believed that not over a thousand persons will winter at the once thriving railroad town. With the decrease of population it is claimed there will be a shorter market for vegetables and produce raised by the ranchers.

"I want some needles for a phonograph," said a man who sauntered into the Northern drug store at Cordova recently. The clerk showed him the needles and also noticed that the man was on speaking terms with old John Barleycorn. The customer apparently took a liking to the clerk and finally asked him in a friendly whisper if he would like a little taste of something good. "Sure" replied the clerk. Whereupon the man produced a bottle of generous size from his hip pocket and passed it over behind the counter. About three minutes later he was headed for the city jail. The genial clerk happened to be U. S. Deputy Marshal Wm. Fursman, the proprietor of the store. The prisoner with the convivial disposition gave his name as Wm. Nichols.

Mushing several hundred miles over lonely winter trails to answer Cupid's call, David Brown, an old time mining man, from the Iditarod district, was recently married at Seattle to Miss Anna McCaffery of Spokane. Mr. Brown crossed two mountain ranges and mused 400 miles to get to salt water.

Letter from Nick Nussbaumer

Somewhere in France,
September 22, 1918.
Dear friend and brother Pritchett:
About two weeks ago while sick in a hospital I received a letter from one of our esteemed friends and distinguished citizens of dear old Wrangell which contained the following: "You will no doubt be interested and surprised to know that our old friend and Brother Moose, James Wesley Pritchett, genial and jovial editor of the Wrangell Sentinel done tied himself up in the holy bonds of matrimony." This was somewhat of a surprise to me but I hope you will allow me to congratulate you most sincerely.

I had planned on writing to you several times and I really don't know just what style of excuse would fit the best. I have been getting the Wrangell Sentinel pretty regularly at first, it is only lately that I was so unfortunate as to miss one or two copies. The Sentinel is a very popular paper here; it is read by men from Alaska to Florida and from Seattle to New York. My company has representatives from all States in the Union, so quite often we get into an argument as to which is the best state. The last time I won out for Alaska by telling them that Alaska was such a good country that if a man died there and went to Heaven they usually chain him. If they didn't he would surely go back to Alaska.

I have been in France now almost nine months and had some experience in almost everything imaginable. Things did not look any too bright and one can't picture the receptions we got by the civilians as we were marching through the different towns. The cry "Vive les Americaines!" could be heard all over. One could notice at first sight the effects of the war after a duration of nearly four years; children, old men and women were all you could see. Young women and girls are holding down men's jobs on railroads and factories to enable the men to take up arms. One thing that surprised me was to find French rolling stock in an excellent condition. Today the boys from the U. S. A. are even more popular than they were when they first landed; nothing is too good for them. It is something very common to be going along the road somewhere and hear a French individual whistle or sing the tune of "Star Spangled Banner;" the tune "Over There" also is making a hit with them.

We are at present some distance from the real front, making every effort to fill the enormous demand for bridge timber, road planking, railroad ties and trench timber. Though we are all working very hard, we feel that we would rather get into real action. It makes us feel cheap when the boys come back from a battle and tell us how much fun they were having. General Pershing, however, tells us that the Forestry Branch of Service is one of the most important ones. He said that we've got to have the timber for if we can't get it our boys would not be able to point their guns towards Berlin but would be going the other way. He said, "I can realize how you boys feel but as long as you go where you are told and do as you are told with 100 per cent efficiency, you are at the front." I guess we are doing our work with 100 per cent efficiency, for the 4th battalion has smashed all records. First record we established right after landing here, 35 days after leaving Washington, D. C. We had our mills put up and were sawing lumber in France; then, greatest of all records we made just a few days ago when we sawed 87,000 feet of lumber in a day and night in a 40,000 capacity mill for day and night. We used the French type of portable mills first but have changed now and are using Clark mills (American type.) The timber is all cultivated; there are no native forests in France. We are cutting at present a 35-year growth of bull pine. They have some pretty nice timber. For instance a 75-year growth of balsam spruce has from 24" to 36" butt. Beach and white oak can be found in some quantities, also sycamore and cork oak. Cork oak is not cut, but is peeled every so often and the bark realized is used for life preservers, bottle stoppers, etc.

I had my first furlough in August and went to the Alps in Savoie near the famous Mt. Blanc, expecting to see my brother there, whom I was parted from at the age of 10. He now has a commission as captain in the Swiss army and has been doing Frontier Guard ever since the day when Germany thought the whole world ought to bow to her. The Swiss border had been closed temporarily and we did not have a chance to meet. I tried to have a good time anyhow. The Alps look just like our Alaska mountains, with the only difference that they have wonderful macadamized roads all through, some of them leading up even into the snow. I hired a bicycle and got on a cog-wheel railroad which leads up Mt. Revard. After looking at the wonderful scenery, including Swiss and Italian and French territory, I got on my wheel and coasted downward for 44 kilometers. (which is about 30 miles) without moving a pedal. Some sport! I visited several of the castles, old and grey, some of which date back to Roman times. I was in an abbey which was built in the ninth century, is on Italian soil and is kept today by monks. I had also a chance to spend a day in Lyon, at present the largest city in France. At that place they inaugurated a new bridge across the river Rhone on July 14th and named it after our noble President Wilson. It is a wonder of a structure and took six years in the building.

It is no doubt of interest to you to know that our Loyal Order of Moose staged the biggest smoker ever held in Europe on July 27th in Paris. I was unable to go but all English and French papers in Paris gave it a grand write-up. I stated at the beginning of this letter that I had been sick in the hospital. I had a serious fever and a light touch of pneumonia but am well again now. The boys are all well and wonderful spirits prevail everywhere, though we are all longing for the day when "Sammy goes marching home," but I would not sell my chance of being "over here" for a million dollars.

With kindest regards and best wishes I remain
Fraternally yours,

At the time of the closing there were no cases in town, but since that time one case has been diagnosed by Drs. Bulkley and Brown as the Flu. Bert Hoag, of the Hoag and Todal pool room is said to be ill with the disease. He is at home and has been isolated and quarantined and there is little fear of a spread of epidemic.

The plant of the Alaska Canning Company, located at Seow Bay, is about ready to start the winter operations. The plant has been canning salmon this year and put up about 6,000 cases. The winter clam pack is expected to reach 3,000 cases, according to the manager of the plant.

At the present time the force is busy building five, two and three roomed houses for living quarters for those working at the plant during the winter. It is expected this year to pack mostly half gallon cans as they seem to find a better market among the camps and restaurants.

The wolverine is reported to be the strongest animal of its size in existence. Cases have been recorded where a full grown wolverine has carried off a sack of hams in the snow without leaving a trace of the meat. To do this it is necessary for the animal to walk on his hind feet and carry the sack over its shoulder. Other cases have been known where a wolverine carried a quarter of moose in its arms for nearly a mile over a rough country, never putting the meat down until it reached its cache.

An Airedale dog belonging to a man at Valdez recently fought a brown bear near that place for 24 hours. When the dog was found he had the big bear backed up against a cliff and had him all chewed up. The dog had a few scratches that healed up in a few days.

Darby Choquette departed a few days ago for Seattle.

PAUL—JONES

Wrangell had its first war marriage last Thursday evening when Private Louis Paul was united in marriage to Miss Matilda Jones.

A short time ago Mr. Paul was sent home from Ft. Seward for re-classification. Later he was ordered to report on November 1. The marriage took place on the eve of his departure and was very much of a surprise to the many friends of the young couple.

Mr. Paul is a young man who was born in Wrangell and raised in southeastern Alaska. He was educated in the east and has held positions as both stenographer and printer in various parts of the United States.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones. She is an estimable young woman and has a host of friends in Wrangell. She will make her home with Mr. Paul's mother, Mrs. William Tamaree, while her husband is in service.

The Sentinel extends heartiest congratulations.

Dr. J. L. Wesby, a pioneer physician of Nome was an outgoing passenger for the States on a recent steamer. He stated that not over four or five hundred persons would winter in Nome and on the Seward peninsula and that there would be little doing until after the war, when the Alaskans would all return.

Sixteen quarters of beef arrived at Seward recently from the government farm at Kodiak. The meat was fine looking, but the smell was overpowering as the men at the government farm had killed the beef sixteen days before the Farragut arrived, and the boat was twelve days on the trip with no cold storage facilities. It is said the same thing happened last year when beef was killed.

C. M. Coulter was indisposed the first of the week.

Deputy United States Marshal H. J. Wallace on Tuesday received the following cablegram from Mr. Mahoney, deputy clerk of the district court: "Court has been postponed indefinitely. Thirty days' notice will be given. Notify all concerned."
